- COVID-19 Information

Just Announced: The student loan payment pause is extended until the U.S. Department of Education is permitted to implement the debt relief program or the litigation is resolved. Payments will restart 60 days later. If the debt relief program has not been implemented and the litigation has not been resolved by June 30, 2023 - payments will resume 60 days after that. We will notify borrowers before payments restart. Visit StudentAid.gov/coronavirus for updates.

- Income-Driven Repayment and Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program Account Adjustment

U.S. Department of Education (ED) revealed several changes and updates that will bring borrowers closer to forgiveness under income-driven repayment (IDR) plans. ED will begin work on implementing these changes immediately, but borrowers will not see the effect in their accounts until fall of 2022. Learn more about the account adjustment.

- PSLF Information

If you currently work or previously worked full-time for a government or not-for-profit, you may qualify for Public Service Loan forgiveness. If you have any FFELP loans or Perkins, those loans must be consolidated into a Direct Consolidation Loan, since only Direct Loans are eligible for PSLF. Before you consolidate or apply for PSLF, you can verify eligible employment by completing Step 1 of the PSLF help tool at StudentAid.gov..

- Student Loan Debt Relief Is Blocked

Courts have issued orders blocking student debt relief. The Biden-Harris Administration is seeking to overturn those orders. For the latest information regarding the status of student debt relief, visit StudentAid.gov.
