Important disclosure(s)

Returned payments

If the payment(s) is returned as unpaid or removed from your loan for any reason, you may still be responsible for the remaining loan balance.

Servicing of federal student loans

Your federal student loans referenced in this letter are owned by the U.S. Department of Education. The terms of the federal student loan programs are not determined by Aidvantage, they are established by federal law, in particular by the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, and U.S. Department of Education regulations. Among other things, the law and regulations set borrowing limits, interest rates, eligibility for subsidies, repayment plans, capitalization of interest, and loan forgiveness. As your loan servicer, Aidvantage is required to administer your loans on behalf of the U.S. Department of Education in accordance with the law.

Your loan servicer

Your loans are serviced by Aidvantage (NMLS# 2241381).
